Foreword

This year for the first time the International Olympic Games will be held in the United States. The early Greeks sought after a well-rounded life, and to this end the children were trained from an early age for participation in the Olympics, which then included many things besides the athletics of which they are now composed. In this way they may be compared to a high school, as it tries to fit young men and women for their part in life.

It is for these reasons that the Maroon Staff felt it fitting and timely to choose the Olympics and their ideals as the theme of the 1932 Maroon.

Dedication

The Greek ideals of life have always been upheld as approaching nearer to the perfect than those of any other race in history. The Greeks endeavored to round out their lives both mentally and physically, and encouraged the participation in all manners of contests in their Olympic games.

It is from our desire to conform as nearly as possible to these standards that we dedicate the Maroon of 1932 to the Greek ideals of life: The highest perfection in learning, the most beautiful in art, the finest physical development.

Administration

Elgin is very fortunate in having such fine heads of the schools as Mr. Saam, the superintendent, and Mr. Goble, the principal. They are continually striving to make the time spent in school more interesting and fruitful for both the teacher and pupil, and to them should go much of the credit for the smooth running of our schools. Back of them stands the Board of Education, composed for the year 1932-33 of: Edwin F. Gardner, President; R. E. Abell, B. C. Bronson, P. R. Chaddock, R. W. Hawthorne, L. H. Leitner, H. F. Mattocks, L. W. McGill, R. R. Phillips, Dr. O. C. Prideaux, P. E. Schickler, and F. A. Ziegler.

Advisers

This year, the advisory staff is composed of two advisers for the girls and two for the boys. Mrs. Drysdale and Miss Pratt are the girls' advisers and have their office in 201, where they meet with the individuals and help them to settle their problems. The boys' advisers, Mr. Larsen and Mr. Miller, may be found in Room 318 when anyone is in difficulty or wishes some kind of help. The advisers give a valuable service in establishing better relations between the teacher and pupil, and in preventing many failures by arranging for special help.

Library

"The heart of a school" a high school library is sometimes called. Here centers a continual flow of interests in various lines of school work and contacts with many outside activities.

It is a magic place where one may be carried back to any period of history and meet famous people of any age. Through books one may know, intimately, people whom he could not expect to meet personally. Treasures of literature are here: books of science, travel, shopwork, music, home management, business training, or art.

This year more students than ever have made use of the library, although conditions have been inconvenient because of limited space, funds, and staff.

Health

The school system now employs the full time of three nurses to help look after the health of the many pupils. They have regular inspections of all of the students in both the grade schools and the high school, and if necessary recommend further medical attention. In this way many illnesses are stopped before they have a chance to become serious. The nurses' office is on the first floor of the high school, and there is always someone there to give help when it is needed. The Health Staff thus renders a valuable service in the prevention of disease and the rendering of first aid.

English

The department of English is organized on the democratic plan of each for all and all for the school. Meetings are held about twice a month for the purpose of discussing problems, objectives, and standards. While all have similar objectives, there is freedom in the manner of obtaining these.

Work in class and individual projects is encouraged, but projects are different with different teachers and with varied groups of students.

This year special emphasis has been laid upon the obtaining of better oral reading. To encourage improvement in this work a Junior Poetry Reading Contest was held in April in addition to the Ninth and Tenth Grade Reading Contests held in February.

Science

The study of science may be the study of the earth on which we live and its relation to the other planets, the study of the electric dynamo, the ability of nature to combine the raw elements in the construction of a beautiful flower, or the chemistry involved in changing a poisonous gas to a sweet smelling perfume or a healing medicine. Science is always endeavoring to find an answer to the many problems to which nature alone holds the solution. In this endeavor the chemistry classes are particularly interested in the visual aids, and many educational films, slides, and drawings have been used in presenting various projects.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department tries to provide experiences which fit the individual through his knowledge, skills, attitudes and accomplishments to be more useful as a producer, more appreciative and happier as a consumer, and more valuable as a citizen.

The boys make many things in the manual training classes that may be used in the home, and in auto-shop they are permitted to work on their own car or to make any of a number of worth-while things. The girls in the cooking classes learn how to prepare an appetizing and a correctly-balanced meal, and in the sewing classes they make dresses for themselves as well as carry out many other simpler projects.

Commercial

To train the student to fill capably a position in a business office is the aim of the Commercial Department. By following actual business methods as nearly as possible the Department plans to develop a background that will enable any graduate to enter an office as a junior salesman, clerk, or stenographer.

Proficiency in stenography is developed, introduction is made to the more common office appliances, a working knowledge of business transactions is given, and the operation of a set of books is taught; the final course offered is one in office training, which applies and enlarges the knowledge the pupil has already acquired in preliminary courses.

Social Science

The social sciences under the direction of Mr. Miller offer a great variety of interesting and worth-while courses, including economics and social problems as well as history.

In the economics and social problems groups the teacher tries to fit students for their life after leaving school. They study many problems concerning the economic welfare of the nation and the proper distribution of wealth. Included in this is research on the manufacturing and industry of the world, and the correct conduct of business. The social problems classes study the working of the government, foreign relations, and education, and endeavor to make the student a better American citizen and a credit to his community.

The history classes offer many courses, ranging from the ancient history of the Greeks and Babylonians through the history of early and modern Europe and up to the modern American studies. It is the aim of the history department to teach the students so that they will be able to meet successfully any situation.

Foreign Languages

The aim of all the foreign language teachers is to make the life and customs of the people whose language they are studying a real functioning part of the life of the student.

At present there are four languages offered to the students of Elgin High: French, German, Spanish, and Latin. Beginning Spanish is being discontinued because of its close relation to French. German was reintroduced in the fall of 1928 and has grown to five classes for the present school year. The advanced classes in both German and French are making special studies of the life of the people whose language they are studying. In the Latin 5 classes a decided change was made in the subject matter and authors. This now gives work from Pliny, Gellius, Petronius, and Cicero of gradually increasing difficulty.

Fine Arts

The art department of Elgin High School offers more opportunities for creative work than most schools of the state. Excellent equipment and fine teachers combine to provide those wishing to elect the art course with a thorough understanding of the fundamentals of line and color, and prepare them for a more advanced course in college.

Miss Knudson has charge of the music department, which has enjoyed a year of more than usual activity. A wide variety of musical opportunities are offered including major music, instrumental, and vocal organizations. Finished concerts by these organizations are evidence of the excellent work done.

Physical Education

The progressive physical educator today is in favor of combining and unifying physical and mental education as one purposive system of activities having their own end, and one sees the tendency very strongly in up-to-date schools.

The aim of the physical education department is to provide an opportunity for the individual to act in situations that are physically wholesome, mentally stimulating and satisfying, and socially sound. It may be noted that this aim is in substantial agreement with any acceptable aim of general education.

Mathematics

The mathematics department emphasizes the practical value of mathematics, its use in occupations, and its informational value; it also emphasizes the development of the individual student by the exercise of his reasoning powers, his power of concentration, his imagination, and self-reliance. In order to promote interest in this subject the Mathematics Club was organized under the supervision of Miss Peters; this club has aroused great interest among the students.

Student Council

President	Donald Cook
Vice-President	Wesley Spalding
Secretary	Edward Affeld

With Don Cook at the helm the Student Council steamed out on the sea of school affairs. Though the going was quite rough because of the severe financial conditions, the Council's first project, the lyceum course, was a big success from the financial as well as the entertainment point of view. A Metropolitan Opera singer, a character impersonator, a deep-sea diver, and a member of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition gave the students a most varied and interesting course of entertainments.

The traditional school dances were also staged successfully. As the Council was able to sponsor a dance at least once a month, dancing increased in popularity among the underclassmen as well as the Seniors. This year the Council undertook a new responsibility; in order to better conditions in the halls during the periods, the members studied in the hall during their respective study periods.

All in all the Council of '32 upheld the traditions of preceding years and succeeded in putting a few of their own ideas into practice.

Senior Class History

The Class of '32 entered in January 1928 with 146 freshmen and increased its number in September to 420 students. Members of the class were found in all school activities, athletics, debates, and continually heading the honor roll. For the first time in history the freshmen defeated the sophomores in their annual debate. They also elected Donald Salisbury and Howard Schultz as Student Council members.

In the sophomore year the Council members were Donald Salisbury, Donald Cook, Jeanne MacIntyre, and Edward Affeld. Three of our members were on the varsity debate team. In athletics six boys earned E's and seven girls received minor E's.

Half of their high school life over, the Class of '32 became Juniors. They started the right way by electing Donald Salisbury president, Howard Schultz vice-president, and LaVon Ponsonby secretary. Their first problem was solved by choosing blue and white for class colors. To aid the condition of the class treasury the play "Bab" was presented on May 21 and 22. As a climax to the social activities of the year, the Junior Prom was a great success.

In September 1931 the Senior year was begun, and, to lead the way in the final spurt, they chose Donald Powell president, Nels Jensen vice-president, and Kathryn Castle secretary. Donald Cook was elected president of the Student Council, and Edward Affeld, Edgar Post, Donald Powell, and Jean Cook were representatives. The "Fourth Wall," the Senior Class Play, presented on December 10 and 11, was a huge success.

The Class was well represented in boys and girls athletics. Fred Nottolini captained the heavyweight football team during the 1931 season.

The Senior Prom on June 7 was a beautiful and memorable occasion.

In Memoriam

In the last part of the year 1931 the death of George Holland came as an unexpected blow to us all. George's loss was perhaps most keenly felt because he had been with us through over three of our high school years, and in that time had made innumerable friendships. His activities were many and varied. Besides being an outstanding student, he was interested in intramural basketball and hockey and was a member of the band.

His cheerful, cooperative spirit made George a popular classmate and one who will live always in our memories.

In March, 1928, Richard Bonin succumbed to injuries received in a most unfortunate accident. His death was a tragic event in our Freshman year, and his loss was keenly felt by the entire class.

The death of Vera Maas in February, 1929, after an unsuccessful operation, was the second to mar the happiness of our high school days. Her passing was felt by the great number of classmates to whom she had been a very dear friend.

Ernest Anderson, another popular classmate, died during the summer of 1930 after a short illness.

The May Festival

During the spring of 1931 the students and faculty of Elgin High started a pioneer movement in pageantry by sponsoring the first May Festival in the history, thus hoping to make the annual pageant one of the traditions of E. H. S.

This year, on May 25, the second annual festival was held at Maroon Field in celebration of the one hundred and fifty six years of American Independence. The theme carried throughout the Pageant was "The Spirit of America."

After having been announced by the trumpeters, to the strains of music from the band and orchestra the May Queen and her attendants progressed up the green field to the white throne. The coronation of the Queen by the President of the Senior Class then took place, after which the Queen and her attendants were entertained by those taking part in the festival.

Under the glow of the flood lights the girls in costumes of pastel shades made a lovely picture as they danced. Included in their dances were the maypole dance, the rose ballet, and the daisy chain.

The boys added, as their contributions to the entertainment, many track and field events, in which the competition was very keen. The calisthenic drills and games proved very enjoyable to the large audience.

True to pageantry there were mass movement, color, and sound combined in a harmonious way. This was carried out in the splash of color found in the costumes, the patriotic music, and the graceful movements of the performers.

History of the Junior Class

All during the summer of 1929, 294 boys and girls kept thinking, "I am going to High School this fall." They joined the 144 others to make up the class of '33.

For the first year representatives on the Student Council were, John Olhaber, Robert Miller, James Miller, and Betty Schmidt. Several secured places on the basketball and track teams, which is unusual for Freshmen. Not to be outdone, the girls competed in basketball, tennis, hockey, and archery. Seven honor medals for high scholarship were presented in June, 1930.

As sophomores Loren Mink, Arlette Abell, Doris Palm, and Betty Schmidt served on the Student Council: track and tennis drew the attention of more of the members; several secured positions on the lightweight and heavyweight basketball and football teams. The sophomores carried off the honors in the debate from the Freshmen.

In the fall of the third year Robert Miller was chosen President, Charles Meyers as Vice President, and Charlo Holden as secretary. The Student Council was represented by Betty Schmidt, whose place was later taken by Charles Meyers, Arlette Abell, Pruden Ballard, and Wesley Spalding. Both basketball teams were captained by Juniors, Robert Miller and Kenneth Koehler as was the Lightweight football team, by Edwin Cahill. Lenore Wright, Doris Palm, and Ruth Frantz were on the debate squad. The Junior Class Play, "The New Poor" was highly successful. Social affairs had their right share of attention, but the climax was the Junior Prom.

Three years have passed with the most interesting one of all yet to come.

Scholarship

Too often overlooked, scholarship yet remains one of the most important features of school life. At the close of the school year there comes an Annual Scholarship Day, set aside as a time for the recognition of those who have attained outstanding honors in their work during the year.

Honor Roll Students

Our school has an Honor Roll upon which the name of any student having an average of ninety or above in four subjects is placed. The names of those having these grades for one report period appear on the Monthly Honor Roll. If they keep the same record for a whole semester, their names are placed on the Semester Honor Roll; and when they have made this record the entire year, they receive an Honor Medal. These medals, contributed by the Rotary Club, are presented on Scholarship Day by the Elgin Rotary Club president. The medal for a student appearing for his first year is a round one of bronze; for the second, a round one of silver; for the third, one of gold; and for the fourth year, a square one of gold.

They were provided and presented by Mr. E. N. Herbster in 1932 to Elizabeth T. Brydges and Frederic S. Marks.

Athletics

Mr. Adams, Mr. Miller, Mr. Larsen, Mr. Saam, Mr. Goble, Mr. Roggen.

Athletic Board of Control

The Athletic Board of Control determines the policy of Elgin High School athletics, systems of play; and in conjunction with the other Big Six boards arranges the schedules and rules by which the circuit will play. A very important power which the board exercises is the awarding of letters for football, basketball, track, tennis, and golf. "E's" are awarded in the following manners:

In basketball and football twelve conference quarters are required for a letter. Conduct, attitude, and teamwork are considered in accordance with the service clause. For golf and tennis letters are awarded on merit and general attitude. Track "E's" are awarded in two divisions; major and minor; the former are granted for a place in the Big Six outdoor meet or ten points in competition, while the latter are given to those failing to meet the major requirements.

Mr. Larsen is president and Mr. Miller the financial manager and secretary of the board. Mr. Saam, as superintendent of the Elgin Schools, is a member; as is Mr. Goble, principal of the High School. Mr. Adams and Mr. Roggen, as coaches intrusted with the turning out of representative teams, are also members.

Clifton E. Adams

Clifton E. Adams
"Cliff," as he is known, is the athletic director of the school, besides being coach for heavy-weight football and basketball.

Arthur Roggen

Mr. Roggen, although here for his first year, has been very successful as track and lightweight coach.

John A. Krafft

John A. Krafft

Mr. Krafft has capably coached the B heavies and assisted Mr. Adams with the A squad.

Myron C. Myers

Mr. Myers has coached the lightweight B squad, which contributes a great deal to the success of the A team the following year.

Gilbert E. Renner

"Gil" has charge of tennis, golf, and the intramural sports, which offer recreation for those not participating in interscholastic competition.

Coaches

There is perhaps no position in a school that has so much direct bearing and influence on a boy's life as does that of a coach. His duty is not only to turn out winning teams but also to inspire and guide the players to the right start in life. The Elgin coaches have fulfilled this to the last degree.

These men have turned out consistently strong teams, which have always ended the season well up in the running in the Big Six conference, which is one of the strongest high school circuits in the northwest territory. An example of Elgin's leadership is shown in the lights' winning the football title for the fifth consecutive time this year.

Captains

It is a generally accepted theory that every team, no matter how small or obscure it may be, to be successful must have a leader. In modern sport teams elect captains from one of their number by popular vote. He is the one upon whose shoulders falls the responsibility for team spirit, sportsmanship, and the desire to win. He represents the team in all negotiations and is the one by whom people judge the team. If the team wins steadily, the captain is patted on the back. If the team loses a lot of games, he must stand the criticism. Fans can help a team considerably by encouraging the boy who does his best to lead his team to victory.

"Dino" Nottolini

The heavy football team needed a strong leader. They found one in "Dino."

"Pinky" Cahill

A better choice for pony football captain could not be made.

Pinky Cahill

"Kenny" Koehler

"Koke," leader of the Maroons in their cage invasions.

"Paulie" Sokody

"Soke," a fine example, the sergeant in the lightweight basketball outfit.

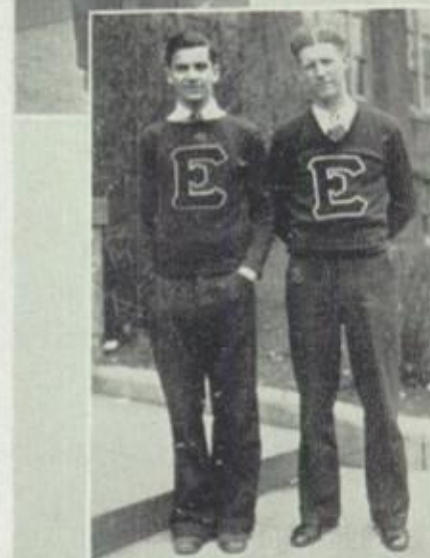

"Russ" Anderson

Co-captain of track team; an experienced boss.

"Jim" Monteith

A fitting representative for the cinder squad. A good co-captain.

Paul Backus

Although the Maroons were considered one of the most formidable in the Big 6 and although they tied the conference champions, West High, Elgin was forced to be content with a second place in the final standing.

The line was composed of heavy, experienced material, Captain Nottolini, Buerk, and Shaw having seen action in the forward wall of the 1932 team. The backfield boasted two heavyweight lettermen, Olson and Bain. Pilcher, Howell, Smith, and Blakesley coming up from the lightweights, and Estergard, Olhaber, Meuser, Read, Skoning, Bazos, Voights, Levey, and Sterricker, former "B" team players, composed the rest of the squad.

From this wealth of fine players Coach Adams turned out a team worthy of upholding the name of Elgin High.

Elgin was represented on the All-Conference eleven by Nottolini and Olson, the latter also being awarded all-state mention.

Captain "Dino" Nottolini was an inspiring leader both by his dependable aggressive playing and natural football ability.

For five times in succession the aggressive E. H. S. lightweight football teams have led the conference. In winning the last title Elgin was represented by a dynamic fighting team.

When the season began, Mr. Roggen had Gostelle and Cahill, first string men of the previous year; Carlson, Kienlen, Johnson, Andresen, Jacobs, Miller, and Hansen second string men; and Born, Marquis, Morrison, and Mailler, "B" team players, with which to build up a team representative of E. H. S. This team turned in 162 points to their opponents 25, proving their rank.

Much of the credit for this great team is due Mr. Roggen, who though here for his first year not only turned out a scrappy and aggressive outfit, but also showed himself a wonderful sportsman.

The captain, "Pink" Cahill, through his natural leadership and football ability had much to do in keeping the team out in front.

Six Elgin lightweights were placed on the mythical All-Conference first team: Cahill, Carlson, Andresen, Hansen, Marquis, and Jacobs. On the second All-Conference eleven were Gostelle and Kienlen; while Miller was given honorable mention.

The lightweight team played consistently good football, with every man doing his best to help gain the championship.

ELGIN 12—FREEPORT 6

The heavyweights beat Freeport in probably the toughest game of the season. The final score stood at 12 to 6. The highlight of the game came when Olson arose from a knockout and sprinted 70 yards across the green for a touchdown. Then came a series of line bucks by Blakesley and Bull, who crossed the goal a second time. Freeport menaced Elgin's goal twice, but always were stopped by a tightened defense. The Pretzels did, however, score in the last period with a 32-yard ramble.

ELGIN 12—FREEPORT 0

A 12 to 0 victory over Freeport in the opening conference game encouraged the Ponies to go out and win another Big Six shield. Cahill, Miller, and Jacobs starred in the backfield. The game was decidedly Elgin's. Being in scoring territory four times, Roggen's eleven scored only twice. Jacobs and Gostele followed a driving line down the field 65 yards for the first touchdown. After Freeport fumbled the kickoff on the 35-yard line, a neat pass from Jacobs to Cahill and a line smash by Miller gave Elgin the victory.

ELGIN 14—WEST AURORA 14

A fighting comeback in the second half saved the Maroons from sure defeat by West Aurora. In the first quarter Elgin threatened the goal once, but the period ended with no score. In the second quarter a neatly blocked punt and a recovery over the goal line scored West Aurora the first six points. In the same quarter a 45-yard touchdown run made the score Elgin 0—West High 14.

With Olson carrying the ball nearly all the time, the second half netted Elgin 14 points, tying the score. Punting by Pilcher saved the game several times.

ELGIN 19—WEST AURORA 0

The lights won a decision over West Aurora with a strongly offensive forward wall. A 20-yard Jacobs-to-Cahill pass and an end run put the ball over the chalk for Elgin's first touchdown. A steady march down the field credited Cahill with the second. After Carlson recovered a fumble and ran to the 5 yard line, Jacobs covered the remaining yards. A clever pass from Jacobs to Cahill netted an extra point.

"Johnny" Howell

EAST AURORA 19—ELGIN 0

With the rain coming down in sheets the E. H. S. heavies went down to defeat before the faster and more alert down-river team.

The ball had to be wiped off after almost every play, but this precaution for the most part was in vain, for the play was blocked by innumerable fumbles.

The first East High touchdown came through a Maroon fumble on the twenty yard line. Thereafter, the men from down the river held the edge and managed to score two more touchdowns.

ELGIN 26—EAST AURORA 7

Displaying a fast, brainy, flashy brand of football, the Maroonettes overcame the East High ponies in a chilly downpour.

Featuring long runs by Cahill and Jacobs for touchdowns, the game showed the typical Elgin fight, with the lights in control of the ball most of the time. The other two touchdowns were added by the hard plunging Gostelle in conjunction with the fast charging line.

ELGIN 7—ROCKFORD 0

The Rockford heavyweight game was a fight from start to finish.

The first quarter was decidedly the Rab's, with Elgin doing good defensive work. The second quarter showed Elgin on the offensive, Levey finally going over for the touchdown. "Bob" Pilcher booted the ball over the bar, making it 7 to 0. Olson, before going out with injuries, showed all-around football ability in snagging passes and hitting the line.

In the last half neither team was able to get within scoring distance.

ELGIN 20—ROCKFORD 6

The lightweight victory over Rockford showed the value of team work in winning games. The teams were evenly matched, and although Rockford had more first downs, Elgin grabbed the breaks to win.

Cahill, intercepting a Rab pass, ran 80 yards for a touchdown. "Steamroller" Gostelle made two touchdowns. "Tink" Carlson, who went out at the half with a fractured shoulder, proved himself a great end in grabbing fumbles and piling up interference.

"Pink" Cahill

A shifty, elusive ball carrier.

"Bud" Andresen

A big cog of the defense.

"Dyke" Born

An end that gets his man!

"Tink" Carlson

A great all-around end.

"Walt" Giloman

"Gus" Gostelle "Steamroller Gus."

"Smokey" Hansen
Iron man in the line.

"Bill" Hoffmann
A brainy field general.

"Pewee" Jacobs
A hard running, hard hitting back.

"Art" Johnson
Fast, smart guard.

"Norbie" Kienlen
A tough tackle.

"Bob" Mailler
A stalwart determined tackler.

ELGIN 19—JOLIET 0

Elgin slid, slithered, and waded to victory on a muddy field over the Prison City heavies. It was the last conference game for eight of the men; consequently they outdid themselves to leave a last favorable impression.

"Gaga" Mills' aggregation found the going hard with the Maroon line charging in and getting the runner. The Elgin touchdowns were made by Sterriker, Levey and Bazos.

"Speed" Shaw and Nottolini played "bang up" games.

ELGIN 32—JOLIET 0

With Joliet the last obstacle to the fifth consecutive "Big Six" crown, the lights smothered the Jailers in the "goo" by the decided margin of two touchdowns by Jacobs, three by Gostelle, and two follow-up points.

"Bob" Miller should be praised for his work at blocking half. Sokody, Hansen, Marquis, and Andersen played stand-out games in the line.

NON-CONFERENCE FOOTBALL

Three pre-conference games were played as season openers. In the first the heavies met and defeated McKinley High of Chicago by a 13-to-0 score. The lightweights proved too fast for the heavy Libertyville reserves and ran up a 13-to-6 victory in the curtain raiser.

A classy Fenger High team gave the heavies their first set-back by adding a point after touchdown to win by a 7-to-6 score. However the lights sent the Fenger minors back to Chicago with a 27-to-0 drubbing.

The Maroons entertained two Englewood teams on October 2 and scored a double victory, the heavies sinking the Chicago team 13 to 7, while the lights rallied in the last half to win 13 to 6.

As a climax to the 1931 season, on Thanksgiving day a charity game with Parker high was scheduled for the heavies, who came there for a 26-to-0 victory over the touted Chicagoans. The lightweights had disbanded for the season and played no game on this date.

"B" Heavyweight Football

The "B" system has been accepted in most high schools and universities as the best way of discovering and building material for the school's first teams. Elgin has been using this plan for several years, during which time the Board of Control has provided equipment and arranged schedules.

The heavyweight "B" teams followed a slightly different schedule from the "B" lights. The season was highly successful, with only one defeat, which was at the hands of Mooseheart.

In the first game against Harvard the "B's" won 13 to 7, due to passes for large gains in the last half. Marengo was the second to fall before the reserve squad's play, 19 to 0. Then Mooseheart took the next 6 to 0 in a hard-fought battle. The heavies then proceeded to take Woodstock to the tune of 27 to 0; and followed this up with a win over McHenry, 14 to 0. In the last game the "B's" fought the Morton reserve squad to a scoreless tie.

Mr. Kraft deserves a great deal of credit for whipping the green material into a winning aggregation. Koteles distinguished himself by his hard, consistent plunges and off-tackle slices. Sterricker, the fleet halfback who played "A" squad in the last of the season, made great gains around end. Kramer, tackle, and Getsch, center, showed ability in the line.

"B" Lightweight Football

The "B" lights faced a heavy schedule, which they played without their best players, who were drafted to replace the numerous injured "A" squad men.

In the DesPlaines game, which the "B's" dropped 20-6, the team fought consistently, but against heavy odds; Don Keinlen made the lone Elgin score on an end play.

Mooseheart won both games against Elgin, 7-6 here and 12-6 there. In the latter game Paul Larsen made the pony score on a punt, which he blocked, caught, and then ran 60 yards for the touchdown.

West Chicago went down before the "B's" 12 to 6. Keinlen and Hoffman made the Elgin touchdowns, while Harold Born played a bang-up game.

The last two games came out scoreless ties. The games were with Main Township and Morton.

The "B" team and the 2nd team of the "A" squad struggled through a spirited contest which the "A's" won 12 to 0.

Mr. Meyers deserves much credit for developing a number of players that proved adept on the "A" squad.

Again the Elgin High School Maroons took a place high in the Big Six running, being eliminated in the last game of the season by Joliet after a hard fought battle. The season, all in all, was very good considering that the year was marked by numerous instances of hard luck.

Six players of ability were lost during the season, Smith, Bazos, Pilcher, Blakesley, and Olson were ineligible at mid semester due to the nine semester ruling, and Captain Ken Koehler was disqualified by conference ruling. Four of the games lost were nip and tuck throughout, with the teams displacing each other numerous times for the lead.

Mr. Adams has developed teams which have turned out consistently well in the stiff Big Six competition. For his coaching this year he deserves all the credit that can be given him.

The Maroons placed two men on the mythical All-Conference team, Wimpleberg, who led the conference in scoring, and Anderson. Ray Smith would have been placed on the first team except for the fact that he played only one semester.

The ponies looked like a championship outfit at the opening of the season. Everything was proceeding according to the rosiest dreams of any of the fans, when a severe handicap presented itself to the team in the form of losing five players. Captain Sokody was lost as a nine-semester man, and the rest through a conference eligibility ruling.

Coach Roggen was faced with the puzzling problem of reorganizing his team. We place considerable credit after Captain Sokody's name because he was largely responsible for the dandy spirit in a cooperating, spirited team. Bob Miller carried on the good work after Paul went the way of all ninth semester athletes. Paul was all-conference the first semester, and Bob was all-conference for the entire season.

The team was always considered a threat in the conference and was chosen by opponents as the favorite squad to hold the long end of a score.

They ended the season tying for third place with East and West Aurora, each team winning five games and losing an equal number.

A well-experienced coach worked in new surroundings with newly acquainted boys and was considered one of the finest and best coaches ever to hold down a job in this high school. We are, of course, speaking of everyone's friend, Mr. Roggen.

The heavies had an unusually interesting schedule this year. Bowen High of Chicago, one of the leading teams in its section, engaged the Maroons in a thrilling game. Although Bowen was the heavy favorite, the determined fighting Maroons were defeated by only four points in a hectic last quarter. The highly-touted Harlow, high scorer in the Chicago conference, was held to only 6 baskets.

During the Christmas holidays an interesting game between the heavies and an alumni team composed of former Elgin High stars resulted in a win for the Maroons. The superior teamwork and stamina and the characteristic Elgin fight was the deciding factor.

SEASON

The two games with Joliet stand out as the most thrilling of the season and the hardest for the Adamsmen to lose. Joliet's victory on the Elgin floor came in the last few seconds of play, when a Millsman scored a short shot after a basket by "Red" Anderson apparently had cinched the game. At Joliet the Maroons were eliminated from a possible conference victory by a hectic struggle again won by Joliet with a basket in the closing seconds of the last period.

Rockford, always a tough Elgin cage opponent, fell before the terrific onslaught of the Elgin heavies in their determined fight to top the Big 6.

The lightweights also entertained several good non-conference teams this season, along with the regular Big 6 schedule.

Against Bowen's more experienced squad they were unsuccessful. The ponies met the El-Mon Builders in a charity tussle and dropped one of the best games of the season by a one-point margin. The Builders were composed of former lightweight stars, and the two teams were so evenly matched that the outcome was not decided until a basket in the last of the fourth quarter overcame the light's one-point lead.

The ponies scraped through with a two-point victory over the East Aurora men, after a determined struggle on the part of each team.

All of the Elgin lights games were fast and interesting to watch, but the above stand out as particularly noticeable.

Woodstock was the scene of some of the hottest basketball games of the season. The event was to decide who should represent this district in the sectional competition. The sectional victors in turn play for state honors. Elgin won their first two district games, but met in the third encounter a powerful flashy five from Dundee. The result was not what it was expected to be. Elgin lost by a liberal margin. Dundee was defeated during sectional competition.

It has been nearly ten years since Elgin has carried home the bacon from a state meet. We haven't given up hope, but instead predict that one of these years E. H. S. will produce an unbeatable outfit who will march through seemingly overwhelming difficulties as in other years and claim once more her rightful position on the throne of the state.

"B" Heavyweight Basketball

The heavyweight team this year owes its thanks for the fine team it had to the "B" teams of other years. Next year there will be many boys playing varsity basketball who this year played on the "B" teams. The "A" squad was replenished this year at mid-semester by new material from the "Bees."

The heavyweights played a regular schedule of five games with towns near Elgin. The first game was with Barrington, who was a little too strong for the Maroons, taking the boys over by a 30-15 score. Arlington Heights was the next undertaking, and what an undertaking! The boys showed benefits from their first defeat and drowned Arlington by a 40-to-15 score.

Genoa was the victim next, but this time by a little closer score, 26 to 24. McHenry played just one point better and lost their game with Elgin by the score of only 21-20. The concluding game of the season was with Plato Center, who felt what it was like to win; the score was 24-16.

"B" Lightweight Basketball

Every organization must have a firm foundation if it is ever to amount to anything. Applying this rule to our basketball squads, we are not surprised that the teams have "B" squads to fill this position. From the twenty five boys who make up the permanent squad comes the material for following years for the varsity teams. The boys this year followed a regular schedule of games and met the better teams of nearby smaller towns. A date was arranged for a game with Arlington Heights. The lights couldn't seem to stop two speedy guards and were overwhelmed by a 19-to-15 score. An outfit representing Barrington came to Elgin High's gymnasium and departed with a glorious victory. The score was 35 to 20 in favor of Barrington. The next games showed that some heavy practicing had taken place, when Elgin beat Genoa 21 to 15 and McHenry 20 to 11.

Track

This sport of the ancient Greeks has played an ever-enlarging part in school life, due to the increasing emphasis placed upon it. The coming track year promises to bring out a Maroon team which under the able direction of Coach Roggen should vie for the great honors which previous E. H. S. teams have brought our school. This year's squad is large, with a number of underclassmen who show a great deal of promise. The strength of the team, however, lies in these veterans: Carlson, a pole vaulter, who took a place in the Big Six last year; Anderson, vaulter and jumper with two years' experience; Monteith, a hurdler and a jumper of ability; Heine, high jumper and hurdler from two previous squads; and Hebeisen, a consistent hurdler. This group will take care of the jumping and hurdling departments.

The weight department, with Backaus, Levey, Pate, and Buerk, is sure of gaining a number of points.

Marquis, Mailler, Morrison, Carlson, and Range will have accounted for a number of places for E. H. S. when the races are run in the dashes and 440.

There are no veterans in the distances, and it remains to be seen if some underclassmen can fill the shoes of Captain "Rajah" Miller of last year.

Track--Continued

As for the relay team, the material is there and merely has to be assimilated after the fight for positions.

As the Maroon goes to press before the track season is over, it is impossible to give the season's results; however, the season's schedule is as follows:

Varsity Tennis

Last year's team, composed of C. Carlson, J. Olhaber, F. Marks, L. Harris, and Captain A. Ziegler, played a successful schedule, winning a large proportion of their meets. A. Ziegler was defeated in the state finals at Champaign. All these boys return this year except the captain, a nine-semester man. Additions are G. Webb, H. Cutter, J. Miller, E. Ackemann, and W. Humbracht. We hope for many wins in meets at Joliet, DeKalb, W. Aurora, Hyde Park, and possibly the state meet at Rockford.

Varsity Golf

The 1931 Kane County meet at Aurora was won by Elgin. The golf team, Gostelle, Thissell, Timm, and R. Anderson, all return to form a nucleus for this spring's outfit. The district meet will be held at Rockford, and other meets have been planned, including one important one with Hyde Park. Considerable interest has been shown in the game, and in a few years golf should occupy an important position in the school's athletic program.

Intramural Basketball

Intramural basketball this year took the form of an interclass tournament. The class champions played off a schedule with the result that the Juniors proved to be the best team in school. Many other games were played, and a large number of boys found in basketball a very pleasant pastime and mighty warm competition.

In April approximately eight organized teams were being formed to battle for school champ honors in indoor baseball. "Kittyball" is becoming more popular every year and affords good exercise and a good time for all participants. Some of the better teams will be booked for extra games with nearby cities.

Intramural Tennis

Intramural tennis, like golf, is for non-varsity players who desire a chance to try to beat the best of them and be called the best tennis player in school. From this group of boys usually come the fellows who form a varsity team, and so this part of our program is encouraged.

Intramural Golf

Intramural golf is an organization of boys who are non-varsity golfers, yet who wish to compete with other boys for the title of school champion. A large number of boys have reported for golf, and competition should be very keen.

MISS KETTERING

MISS LOGAN

MISS MOREHOUSE

Girls Athletics

Athletics play a large part in a girl's high school life. The physical education department is headed by Miss Logan, who supervises hockey and archery, and her able assistants, Miss Kettering, who specializes in baseball and winter sports, and Miss Morehouse, who coaches the A, B, C, tennis tournaments. All other sports offered are directed by these coaches, and all of their time after school is spent in supervising either at the field or in the gym.

Much practice is devoted to track at the field. Hazel Abney, one of our freshman girls, may enter the Olympics for equalling the American Women's Record in the high jump. It is a very promising sport and has a goal for which to work.

An interesting and fascinating sport is archery. There is always someone who wants to try to hit the bull's eye. In the spring and fall the target is placed at the field, while in the winter inside quarters are provided.

A keen interest is taken in tennis each year. There are four courts at the field. Then some public courts are used to work off the later tournament in which any girl may challenge anyone above her to a game. The girls are divided into A, B, C, groups respectively; the A group being those who have played in the tournament for one or two years. A tournament between Elgin and Barrington in Inter-scholastic Tennis was held this year. Elgin defeated Barrington both times. Tennis offers wider competition than other sports, which makes it very much worthwhile.

Ice hockey and bowling are offered as winter sports. Bowling is carried on at the Schneider Alleys, while two teams participate in ice hockey at Lords Park during the winter weather.

One of the girls' chief delights is to play golf. A golf tournament is scheduled and a champion determined. The Wing Park links are the favorite ones used.

Horseshoes and croquet are sports carried on at the field, in which tournaments offer keen competition.

Soccer, a new sport that was just introduced this year, was received very enthusiastically by many girls.

Play Days are becoming more and more popular. The girls are very much interested in what other schools are doing. Our girls were hostesses to eight near-by schools for the Elgin G. A. A. Play Day. Many basketball play days have been held Saturday mornings here and at Barrington and Mooseheart.

Many other activities are indulged in, such as dancing, both modern and old-fashioned, ping pong, miniature golf, checkers, and others which offer a wide variety.

The girls' field house is always a congenial place throughout the season. Many worthy friendships are gained by meeting and competing with the different types of girls.

"E" Awards

The number of girls awarded "E" has increased yearly with the girls seriously trying for these awards. The state awards are in the form of chenille "I" and emblems. A comprehensive point system is used in which a girl to win an "I" must have one thousand five hundred points, and to win an emblem, three thousand points.

Hockey

Hockey is the main attraction at the field in the fall. Interclass teams are organized, and the tournaments are always exciting and closely contested. This year the inter-class games were run on a new basis. Each girl who wished to make her class team as a regular was required to come out for eight practices. Those girls who failed to get in eight practices went into the games as substitutes. This system resulted in better and faster games. A popular yearly feature is the game between the school champs and the alumni.

Volleyball

Basketball and volleyball are two favorite sports. Volleyball is exceedingly popular with the freshmen and sophomore girls, and there is a group of them who prefer it to any other sport. Gym class tournaments are held, and they are always exciting. The games take place either in the indoor or outdoor gym, although practices are held at Maroon Field in the fall. Miss Kettering supervises all volleyball tournaments and practices.

Basketball

Basketball, indeed, is one of the girls' major winter sports. Keen competition grows out of the inter-class, gym class, home room, and club tournaments.

Every girl participates in some phase of basketball sometime during her high school course.

Inter-class tournaments offer the keenest competition. The girls who have practiced regularly are, of course, the ones who are placed on the competing teams. The games are played off after school. All girls who come out for practice are given a chance to play on some team.

Under good supervision the rules and technique of the game are well mastered, and basketball serves as an excellent recreation for all girls who care to participate.

Baseball

Baseball is a favorite sport in the spring. Gym class and inter-class tournaments are held usually at the field, although the girls sometimes practice in the gym. Indoor balls and playground rules are used. Baseball tests for technique are also conducted yearly in connection with the series of tests for girls sent out by the Illinois Playground Association.

Track

Track has been gaining rapidly in popularity. As a result Play Days in which track events are included have become annual or semi-annual features of the athletic program. High jumping and the dashes are the favorites.

The goal of the Girls Athletic Association is to develop athletics and sportsmanship among all the girls in the high school. The membership includes about three hundred.

In achieving the first goal, the new outdoor gym with even roller skating facilities was a brilliant gain. Ping pong, winter play days, and interscholastic tennis were other notable innovations. The girls won the state basketball shooting contest in the spring of 1931 for the first time.

Social events ranged from a grand hockey-football party and general party for all club members to local play days and even pop corn or supper nights at the field house.

The monthly meetings of the club utilized home talent extensively. Elgin High School in 1930 and a minstrel show were two very entertaining programs.

This year's G. A. A. may well be proud of its accomplishments noted here and the more intangible, but characteristically G. A. A., traits of establishing friendships and good sportsmanship.

The Science Club is an organization for the study of scientific advancement. The variety of interests of the members provides a broad field for discussion and study.

The Club is for boys in the advanced science classes who are interested in the work of the club. At present there are twenty five members. Each member is required to present some organized paper or experiment at least one time during each semester. To become a member a boy must participate in certain activities. In connection with this requirement, the point system is used. When one scores twenty five points, he may become a member. To remain in the club he must score ten points a month.

Each year the club presents a program to the public. This year they helped to sponsor three lectures on micro-organisms by Dr. Rommert. In his lecture this well-known scientist used a new and unique invention called the micro-projector.

The high entrance requirements of this club, which tend to encourage the pioneer spirit among its members, and the ever ready cooperation of Mr. Waggoner have made this organization one of the most outstanding.

Mathematics Club

OFFICERS

President	Wesley Spalding
Vice President	Nels Jensen
Secretary and Treasurer	David Welling
Adviser	Miss Mary Peters

This club is established to create an interest in mathematics by showing its many uses. It is open to all those who are interested in mathematics.

The meetings have been unusually entertaining and instructive this year. A unique contest was conducted at one of the first meetings, and at another an explanation of the origin for forming numbers proved to be of great interest to all. Puzzles and trick problems provided other entertaining programs, with reviews of recent articles on astronomy and the science of mathematics for the educational parts of the meetings. Some programs were quite humorous and exciting, thus giving the members a great deal of fun and enjoyment in a lighter vein.

Since this club is open to all four classes in high school, it provides a chance to make many new friends and acquaintances. A sleigh-ride party is quite a popular annual event with these members. These social activities help to make the spirit of cooperation very dominant at all meetings.

Backed by the intense interest of their adviser, the Mathematics Club has surely had a very interesting year.

The purpose of the Latin Club is to promote an interest in the happenings of Rome that cannot be studied in classes. It also attempts to show the relation of Latin to our everyday lives.

The Latin Club is known to be one of the largest and most progressive clubs in the school. Its membership is limited to those taking Latin above the first semester and having a grade of eighty or above.

The meetings of this year have been varied, instructive, and interesting. One of the first programs was devoted to a comparison of the lives of Caesar and Mussolini. The Christmas meeting was a musical one with a group of boys singing the seasonal songs in Latin. Several meetings provided for reports on Roman lives, literature, and art.

In December the Latin Club joined with other clubs in making the annual foreign language clubs party a huge success.

The intense interest and cooperation of its members coupled with the enthusiasm and helpful guidance of its officers and advisers has made this year one of advancement for the Latin Club.

After completing one semester of work in French, students are eligible for "Le Cercle Francais." This organization meets once a month to foster, encourage, and express interest in French. Although the first semester's membership was rather small, it was greatly augmented by enthusiastic beginners at the opening of the new term.

Interesting activities impossible for class exercises are enjoyed by the club. Singing songs, playing games in French, and making a study of various phases of French life are a few of these. Among the latter was French student life and French influence in America. In that program a review of a story written in English by a French girl was delivered, and a resume of observations made through a direct correspondence was given. At one meeting a play entirely in French was presented. The delightful programs of Miss Morehouse afforded quite intimate glimpses of France, since she had actually been over there.

The social committee headed by Charlo Holden had charge of this club's participation in the annual foreign language club party. "Le Cercle" was well represented in the diverse entertainments furnished.

The aim of being instructive but also entertaining was well realized through the program of this year.

The German Club tries to acquaint its members with the German country. Its ever increasing membership is open to those taking German.

The programs of the year have been highly entertaining. At one of the first meetings Miss Knudson gave an interesting talk on German folk music and composers. Miss Wilson's account of her trip down the Rhine provided another enjoyable program. A discussion of German scientists, a spell-down in German, and a reading contest made up some of the other meetings of the year.

In addition to its regular meetings, the German Club has other interests. In the spring it celebrated the birthday of the great poet, Goethe, by a banquet; it took an active part in the foreign language clubs' party in December; a picnic, which over half the members attended, provided great enjoyment; and a steady correspondence with students in Germany has interested all.

Surely the German Club has had a varied, instructive, and entertaining year.

The Spanish Club attempts to further the study of Spanish for those students who are particularly interested. The club studied parliamentary procedure in Spanish* and took as a goal for the year conducting a monthly meeting by using Spanish forms and expressions entirely.

The officers of the club constitute a program committee. Interesting reports were given on Spain, Sevilla, and Valencia. At one meeting a short Spanish play, "El Criads Astuto," was presented by Francis Gilchrist, Jesse Rocha, and Morton Webster. This year the organization was fortunate in having Jesse Rocha as President, since his native tongue is Spanish. At the April meeting he told the club about Mexico and afterward answered questions asked by the members.

In addition to formal reports, playing games and singing songs has been enjoyed. The songs are old folk songs of Spain and also some of the new popular melodies which have Spanish words.

The past year has been a very successful one for Elgin High's Drama club. Led by their President, Bruce Bowman, and guided by their capable adviser, Miss Biersach, the Players provided many a "snappy" program for their own entertainment and also for auditorium programs.

Members were chosen to work together on the committee of their own choice for the arrangement of programs. The art of make-up, play acting, and student directing provided interesting discussions for several meetings. A novelty program was also given, during which each student called upon contributed his share in the way of some entertaining selection, either dramatic or musical. On November 26 the Players, with the Mask and Bauble as their guests, were entertained by Mrs. Donald Norton, who gave a very interesting review of "Green Pastures."

"Sauce for the Goslings," a clever play ridiculing the use of slang by the modern generation, was given by Junior members of the club, entertaining fellow students in auditorium.

With the Mask and Bauble they sponsored the "traditional" One Act Plays, which are given annually by both clubs.

Juniors and Seniors, selected by Competitive try-outs, make up the limited membership of the club.

With the cooperation of all members and helpful guidance of Miss Biersach, the Players have concluded a very entertaining and successful year.

OFFICERS

President	James Miller
Vice President	Ralph Leach
Secretary	Barbara Byrne
Adviser	Miss Mabel Englebrecht

The Mask and Bauble, a dramatic society, is made up of Freshmen and Sophomores, selected by the advisers after competitive tryouts. The purpose of this club is to study drama in simple form.

To stimulate a greater interest in pantomime and good reading, contests were held in which both girls and boys participated. The club as a whole studied the interesting subject of the make-up of modern actors and successfully employed their knowledge in the several plays which they gave.

A play entitled "The Table Set For Himself" was given for the entertainment of the Parent Teachers Association and also in auditorium. It is a fascinating Christmas play, in which those taking part cleverly portrayed the Irish characters and their Christmas Eve customs.

A student-directed play, "The Gossipers," was given before several of the Civic Clubs of Elgin, while a clever skit, "The Train to Mamo," added much enjoyment to the program of the Annual Comedy Concert.

Although being a club organized for the purpose of studying drama, the Mask and Bauble also had several delightful social meetings at which there was fun for all.

Due to the splendid spirit of cooperation of the members and Miss Englebrecht, the Mask and Bauble has enjoyed a very successful year.

The Commercial Club is open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors who are taking commercial subjects. To aid students in understanding modern business methods and to promote an interest in the business world is the double purpose of this organization.

All meetings of this year have been outstanding. At the January meeting the members were treated to a demonstration of high-speed typing. Two typists of exceptional ability, Miss Olga Elkown and Norman Saksvig, illustrated their skill. They thrilled everyone by typing more than two hundred words a minute and at the same time performing some other feat. Other prominent persons, including Mr. O. B. Pratt of the Association of Commerce, gave interesting talks at different meetings during the year. These monthly club meetings are divided into a business and social time.

The annual Commercial Club picnic was held in the spring. This was greatly enjoyed.

Certainly this club has had unusually fine activities during 1932. A splendid group of officers and the moral support of all members has assured it a successful year.

The Junior Blue-Tri-Y is the Girl Reserve club for Freshmen. It was originally made up of both Sophomores and Freshmen, but last year the former became members of the Senior Blue-Tri-Y. The club meets every two weeks on Tuesday at the Y. W. C. A. at 4:00 o'clock. The organization gives the freshmen girls high ideals of life, and creates a spirit of friendship and kindness to others. The Girl Reserve song, "Follow The Gleam," shows the aims of the club.

The Junior Blue-Tri-Y joined the Senior Blue-Tri-Y in making the Dad-and-Daughter Banquet a huge success. The two annual dances given by these clubs were the main social events of the year. The Mother-and-Daughter Tea and the Annual Spring Luncheon were also highlights of the season.

Indeed it would seem that 1932 has been an eventful year for the Junior Blue-Tri-Y.

The Senior Hi-Y tends to promote Christian character. Its motto is "Clean Speech, Clean Sports, Clean Scholarship, and Clean Living." This club meets at the Y. M. C. A. on every Monday night.

The Hi-Y is open to Junior and Senior boys who wish to avail themselves of an unusual opportunity for character building.

The annual Four C's program in the high school and the Mother-and-Son Banquet were probably the most successful events of the year. The club heard many interesting talks. One on prohibition and one entitled "Climbing the Ladder" were especially enjoyed by all. Moving pictures and general discussions made up other instructive programs. This year the Fourth Annual Hi-Y Reunion took place. It was well attended by both members and alumni.

The Senior Hi-Y always sends representatives to boys' conferences, all members profiting by the many ideals and aims brought back from such meetings.

Through the combined efforts of officers, advisers, and members this club has had a very favorable year.

The purpose of this organization is to create, maintain, and extend to the high school and community high standards of Christian character.

This Hi-Y club meets every Tuesday night at seven o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. The business meeting is held and is usually followed by a discussion of some topic of interest to all. The club has a supper meeting once a month to which fathers and Senior Hi-Y members are invited.

The Junior Hi-Y organization is open to freshmen and sophomore boys; at present there are twenty members. A boy must be unanimously voted in before he can become a member; then he must take part in a strenuous initiation.

One of this club's most interesting programs consisted of a two-reel moving picture entitled "Happy Landings," a picture describing the manufacture of parachutes and the mechanics of their operation. Other activities of the club played an important part in their yearly work. A Hi-Y reunion and the annual Mother-and-Son Banquet were enjoyed by all. Talks by prominent persons made up other programs for a very interesting season.

The general aims of the geography department are: to help students realize what a beautiful place this old world is, to create a better understanding of other people through acquaintance with their geographical conditions, and to prepare those who will travel to appreciate what they will see. The Elgin High School has a geography club into which are incorporated these ideals. In this fashion class-room activities may be supplemented and expanded.

The officers constitute a committee that arranges the monthly programs. At one meeting Mr. Huber gave a very interesting talk on the making of maple sugar. On another occasion Miss Smith told about her Western trip. By using the opaque projector, postcards she had brought back were shown on a screen. A movie featuring the delights of a Canadian fishing trip entertained the group at another meeting.

At present the membership is fifty-five. No social doings were indulged in during this year, but all efforts were concentrated to produce the most profitable and entertaining programs.

One Act Plays

The E. H. S. Players and the Mask and Bauble present, annually, a series of one-act plays as one of the features of our school year. This year the plays were presented on the evening of March 18 to an appreciative audience.

"The Rehearsal," a satirical comedy directed by Kathryn Castle, opened the program. The cast, made up entirely of girls, presented the play in a novel way which proved very entertaining to the audience.

"Two Crooks and a Lady," showing how a clever invalid outwitted the "not-so-clever crooks" and caught them at their own game, was coached by Miss Biersach.

"The Purple Dream," a romantic fantasy, was presented by the Mask and Bauble. This play, telling of a dream of a maid in which she imagines herself to be a queen, was directed by Miss Churchill. The cast for this play is not pictured.

The last play, "Between the Soup and the Savory," was directed by Laura Jane O'Connell. It was a play depending entirely upon characterization work for its success. The plot centered around a lovelorn scullery maid, who imagines herself in love, but is "found out" by the cook and waitress.

During the intermission piano and dance numbers were presented, including a modern dance and a minuet, by members of the Players.

Another clever one-act play, "Sauce for the Goslings," was presented by members of the E. H. S. Players in auditorium, November 11, as a feature of Better Speech Week. It was most effective in its lesson on slang.

Senior Class Play

Upholding their reputation of being slightly different from other classes, the class of '32 presented something new in the way of plays on the evenings of December 11 and 12. "The Fourth Wall," written by A. A. Milne and played in America under the title of "The Perfect Alibi," has a mystery plot which thrilled and entertained large audiences on both Thursday and Friday evening.

Arthur Ludgrove, a pleasant middle-aged gentleman who for his hobby has taken up the art of gardening, his nephew, Jimmy, and ward, Susan Cunningham, had been entertaining a few guests in their luxuriously furnished home over the weekend. Among the guests was a certain Mr. Carter, who was liked by all, and a Mr. Laverick, who is disliked by Susan very much. "He is the kind of a man," she says, "who would put arsenic in the baby's milk." Included in the party were Jane, a friend of Susan's, Mrs. Fulverton Fane, or Mrs. Fluffy-Face, as referred to by Jimmy because of the incessant using of her compact, and a very fussy but likable Englishman, Major Fothergill.

The party had gone to play tennis with the exception of Ludgrove, Laverick, Carter, and Major Fothergill, who had gone to London on business. During their absence Carter and Laverick, who, unknown to Ludgrove, are his worst enemies, murdered him and notified the police.

When they returned, Susan, Jimmy, and their party were questioned by Detective-Sergeant Mallet and his father, but all gave "Perfect Alibies." It looks like suicide.

Senior Class Play

Susan decided that all was not progressing as it should be toward the solving of the murder, and with the help of Jimmy and Jane found the flaw—a misplaced piece of blotting paper—and solved the murder.

Both casts are to be congratulated upon their clever acting, and much credit should be given Miss Biersach for her splendid direction; but the play could not have been a success without the cooperation of the committees backstage. The properties committee, both large and small, the scenery, lighting, and costume committees, and the stage manager all contributed their time and labor, thus assuring the success of the play.

Junior Class Play

On May 21 and 22, 1931, the Class of '32 launched its first attempt at dramatics by the presentation of "Bab" as the Junior Class Play.

"Bab" was written by Edward Childs Carpenter and taken from the novel by Mary Roberts Rhinehart. It is the story of a saucy 17-year-old-girl, who, because of an epidemic of measles at school, is forced to return home just in time to upset her sister Leila's plans for the conquest of a distinguished Englishman, Mr. Beresford. Misunderstood by her family, with the exception of her father and Carter Brooks, who unknown to Bab is in love with her, she gets herself into a dreadful "tangle." Finally the "tangle" unravels, and Leila, with the aid of Bab, elopes with her "Clinton," and Bab receives the understanding of her family and the love of Carter Brooks.

Both casts, due to the splendid coaching of Miss Biersach gave fine performances.

Comedy Concert

The Comedy Concert, given annually by the Mirror Board, proved to be a huge success.

"Betty Co-ed," a song-and-dance skit given by the Boys and Girls Glee Clubs, was a peppy "curtain raiser." Next, the stars of Radio, including Kate Smith, Little Orphan Annie and Sandy, Amos and Andy, and the great orchestra leader, Wayne King, appeared in a Radio Review presented by the Aeolian Club. "The Old Sweethearts" of a good-looking bridegroom then came into view in a song number presented by the Junior Tri-Y. We heard a plea from a little boy that wanted a "Little Yaller Dog," and who didn't see why he had to "Wash." "Two Gentlemen in a Fix," because they could not refrain from arguing long enough to catch a train, was given by Mask and Bauble representatives. Three natives from Hawaii, calling themselves the "Hilo-Hawaiians," entertained us with delightful musical numbers from their native country. One of the greatest inventions of the day, Television, was brought forth in a "Television Review," presenting many song and dance numbers. This review was sponsored by the G. A. A. The Latin Club gave an amusing presentation called "Pyramus and Thisbe." The "Kandie Kiddies," with their lollipops and dolls, told us that they would rather "suck on a lemon drop than try their luck on a lollipop." A group of boys representing the E. H. S. Players gave an entertaining play, taking place in a room of a burning hotel; the composure of the gentlemen and firemen during the fire, added to the humor. "Four Bow-n-sing Boys" sang a group of songs featuring "My Canary Has Circles Under His Eyes." As the final number on the program a group of magicians entertained us with their clever and amazing tricks.

This Concert was all that its name implies and was enthusiastically received by a large audience both on Thursday and Friday nights, March 31 and April 1.

Director	Mr. Reese

Our First Band appeared at the football games during the season and continued throughout the year to do the school credit with each following performance. We were proud to send them with the football team to Aurora, where they helped fight the game. Two concerts were given, one in mid-winter and the other in the spring. In addition to these activities they presented several auditorium programs and played for the High School Parent Teachers Association. In 1930, 1931, and 1932 our band won the North Central District Championship.

To produce their fine quality and quantity of music the First Band rehearse three times a week. Noon practices have been instituted to secure more time. One new sousaphone and two basoons have been added to better the instrumentation. Another new feature is the feat of forming the letters "E," "E. H. S.," and those of visiting schools on the football field while playing.

If there are any especially desirable qualities in a bandsman, aside from sheer musical ability, they are faithfulness and dependability. Gordon Anderson, Edgar Post, Allen Britton, Eleanor Breslich, Ruth Parker, and Richard Biddle are seniors who deserve special recognition, because they have never missed a turnout.

Director	Miss Knudson

Our First Orchestra is something of which we can be proud. Under the able supervision of Miss Knudson the members have become very skilled. This year the orchestra has been in great demand. It was an added attraction to the Senior Class Play, and it played a very important part in the May Festival. Its annual concerts were met with great approval by both the school and the Elgin public. Both upper and lower classmen have enjoyed concerts given by the First Orchestra during auditorium programs. This musical organization helped to make the commencement exercises a success.

The First Orchestra was proud to have some of their members represented in the State Orchestra, which meets at Urbana, Illinois, in the fall. It also sent representatives to the "National Orchestra Camp" at Interlochen, Michigan. Accomplished soloists from the orchestra have played at numerous club meetings and parties. The annual "Fox Valley May Festival" called on our orchestra to furnish music.

In short we could say that the First Orchestra has had a very eventful year.

The members of the First Girls Glee Club are all highly trained. Many of them have had previous training, and all of them have passed tryouts. They meet in the auditorium several times a week; they are directed by Miss Knudson.

The First Girls Glee Club is popular not only in high school but throughout the Fox valley. The members' fine tone quality and interpretation delight any audience.

These singers were main factors in the success of both the Elgin and Fox Valley May festivals. The variations of their numbers illustrated their rare skill.

At Christmas time the First Girls Glee Club helped to entertain in the Elgin elementary schools. This musical organization played a part in the senior commencement festivities in June.

For several years the First Girls Glee Club has established a remarkable reputation, which they have never ceased to hold.

The Junior-Senior Boys Glee Club is the goal of every aspiring male singer in Elgin High School. It is a very exclusive organization, which requires, for admission the passing of a stiff entrance examination. Changed voices of superior quality compose the group. This year the membership was reduced to fifteen boys, who met three times a week for practice. Due to the change in personnel much of the first semester was spent on reconstruction.

Popularity followed their first appearance at Christmas. With the First Boys Glee Club they sang at the grade schools. Other school affairs participated in were an auditorium program and the Comedy Concert. Outside of school they sang for both the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs and broadcasted at the Asylum.

Anyone who has a musical instrument and would like to play may join this organization. The Second Orchestra trains new members for our First Orchestra. It meets twice a week and is highly successful. This year it has shown unusual merit; E. H. S. can well be proud of it.

Second Band

This organization can be called a training camp for our First Band, for as soon as members become proficient they are promoted. In this way our First Band can rapidly grow in size and skill. Mr. Reese directs the Second Band, and anyone who plays a band instrument may join it.

Miss Elma Englebrecht directs the First Boys Glee Club; Louis Rifkin is the president, Neil Emmons, the secretary, Jack Conyne, the librarian. This group consists of changed and unchanged voices. They have made several public appearances with the Junior and Senior Boys Glee Club.

Aeolian Glee Club

This organization was formerly called The Second Girls Glee Club; however its excellence demanded a more fitting name. It is no longer considered a training for the First Glee Club. The members' distinctive work was illustrated at Christmas, when they gave a concert at the Larkin Home. Miss Knudson is director, and Jennie Smith is president.

String Choir

To give the students an opportunity to play together for pleasure and profit, to have a small group ready to respond to the many calls for music coming from schools and music organizations, the String Choir organized this October. Anyone playing a stringed instrument and willing to spend one noon hour a week for rehearsal is eligible for membership, but no school credit is given. The first appearance was made before the Womans Club and was followed by programs for the Daughters of the American Revolution, Parent Teachers Association, the Musicians Club, and in concert with the First Girls Glee Club and Junior-Senior Boys Glee Club.

Treble Choir

Seventy girls are members of the Treble Choir. They meet in the auditorium three times a week with Miss Elma Englebrecht. Three-part music is used. The choir sang at Christmas and at the Old People's Home.

Just for the joy of singing two choruses, composed of girls, meet twice a week. They are not selected voices nor do they need to have had previous glee club experience. Two-and three-part music is used. At the end of each semester the best voices are added to the Treble Choir.

The Second Boys Glee Club is the place for boys whose voices are in the process of changing. The group is open to any boys who like to sing, especially those just from the grades. As soon as there is an opening and a boy shows his ability, he is advanced to the First Boys Glee. Twice a week they meet to work on two and four-part compositions.

Debate Squad

Under the capable direction of Mr. Cartwright, who came to Elgin from Council Bluffs, Iowa, debating has taken its place among the major activities of the school. A new interest in debating has been created among the students, which has been proven by the number of students who tried out for places on the squad. The best debaters were selected, and the squad was organized.

A very extensive program was carried out. All with the exception of those in the "Bix Six" were non-decision debates. Marking the height of the debate season was participation in the Drake Tournament.

With the splendid cooperation of the squad and the able direction of Mr. Cartwright the debate season has been very successful.

Drake Team

On Wednesday morning, March 16, members of the Debate team, Mary Alice Helman, Richard Mansfield, and Bruce Bowman, journeyed to Des Moines, Iowa, where they entered the Drake tournament, which took place at Drake University. These representatives were accompanied by Lois Marr, Ruth Franz, and Mr. Cartwright.

The Elgin team drew a bye in the first round. The next day the negative team, composed of Mary Alice Helman and Richard Mansfield, defeated the affirmative team from the High School of Wintersell, Iowa, a team taking second place in a tournament for the championship of the Southwestern part of Iowa. Professor Whan of Iowa State College judged the debate.

Elgin's negative team, composed of Richard Mansfield and Bruce Bowman, then lost to the affirmative team of Abraham Lincoln High School of Council Bluffs, Iowa, eliminating our team in the quarter finals.

Because it is the first time that any of our teams have entered such a tournament, we are proud of them and congratulate the team and Mr. Cartwright upon their splendid work in the contest.

This year's staff of the Mirror has consistently upheld the high standards set by the publishers of former years. The paper was entered in the 1931 contest of the Illinois State High School Press Association and was awarded a distinguished rating. The year was also successful from the business standpoint as the subscription staff was able to increase the number of student sales to a point where they surpassed those of all other years.

The whole staff deserves much credit for the outstanding paper which they published, as does Miss Ellis, their adviser.

The Maroon

The ancient Greeks preserved the records of their achievements in their Olympic Games through the songs of the wandering minstrels; but we wish to record more permanently the marks made in our High School Olympiad. In the Maroon we have endeavored to record in an interesting and accurate manner all the events of importance that have occurred during the last school year so that they may be preserved to bring back treasured memories in the future. School Dances

It is the custom of the Student Council to sponsor a series of dances throughout the school year.

The dances this year have been well attended, and we feel that everyone had an exceptionally good time.

At Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine's Day, and Easter the Council sponsored special dances, featuring Woody's "Rajahs." Gayly colored balloons and balloon dances added fun to the dancing.

Junior Prom--Class of "32"

The Junior Prom of the Class of "32" was held on Class Day, June 5, 1931. The gym was beautifully decorated in strips of crepe paper in pastel shades cut to form artificial walls and a moss covered ceiling. At the farther end of the gym, on a platform banked with ferns and palms, Billy Beljean's orchestra provided the music for the evening, using as a theme song "The Hour of Parting."

Following the intermission the dancers joined in the Grand March, led by the Junior Class President, Donald Salisbury, the Prom Chairman, Robert Leach, and their guests Jeanne MacIntyre and Marjorie Mattocks.

The dancing was concluded by the playing of the theme song.

Senior Prom--Class of "31"

On June 9, 1931, the Seniors held their Prom. The dancers, in formal dress, made a lovely picture against the pastel background.

The dancers joined in a Grand March, led by Robert Brightman, President of the Class of "31", Earl Trolson, Prom Chairman and their guests, Rita Dhu Wray and Marelu Moore.

Russ Gaede and his orchestra furnished the music for the dancing, using as a theme song "Star Dust."

Class Day

It is an old tradition that every Senior Class have a Class Day. The Class of '32 held their "Day" on June 3.

After the Class Breakfast the Class assembled in the Auditorium with the rest of the school, members of the Class appearing upon the stage for the last time during their high school career.

Don Powell, the President of the Class, presided and announced the program. The history of the class was read by Kathryn Castle, secretary, and the class poem was read by Phyllis Rystrom. The dedication and presentation of the Maroon was then given by the Editor in Chief, Robert Leach. The singing of their class song closed the Class Day Program.

The Class of 1932

With hearts full of hopes and ambitions
We go forth to challenge the world;
To take up new trials and battles,
In the midst of new duties we're hurled.

Our struggle for knowledge has not ended;
Our victories have not all been won;
We're not through with our striving for credit,
For our battle with life's just begun.

Blue and white we wave as our banner;
Our colors float up to the sky.
May our aims and ambitions in all of our life,
Climb up and remain ever high.

We've worked, played, and struggled together;
Together we've lost and we've won;
But now we must stop and find whether
Our battle has ceased or begun.

These years have been carefree and joyous,
And we leave them behind with a sigh.
Whatever may now lie before us,
We can look back in pride—Elgin High.
